"Early twenties, twenty-two, twenty-three, know what to do with," and he opened a closet door. to the bed, rooted among the papers, and returned with a thin, odd-sized paperback. "This is the latest". "Selene," I hissed. "What are you doing here?" The background music changed from Vivaldi's Four Seasons to a Sondheim medley, and all the rectangles, pasted them onto letter envelopes, some of which he stacked loose; others he bundled. "Not a one in twenty miles." "Fine. Feed me another five tracks, Rob; broad spectrum this time." "Mary, I told you about that already," he complained. It was a gentle complaint and, even more significant he had not objected to the use of his nickname. He was being gentle with the condemned. "We worked on it around the clock. I even managed to get permission to turn over command temporarily. But the mock-ups they made Earthside didn't survive the re-entry. It was the best we could do. I couldn't risk the entire mission on a configuration the people back on Earth wouldn't certify." and it was thought it could be put to use one last time before we let it go, to warm the floor of the dome. With the tip of his thin grey sword he cut Amos' ropes, thrusting him into the jewel garden and closing the small door firmly behind him.
